

Albany Court Yard W1

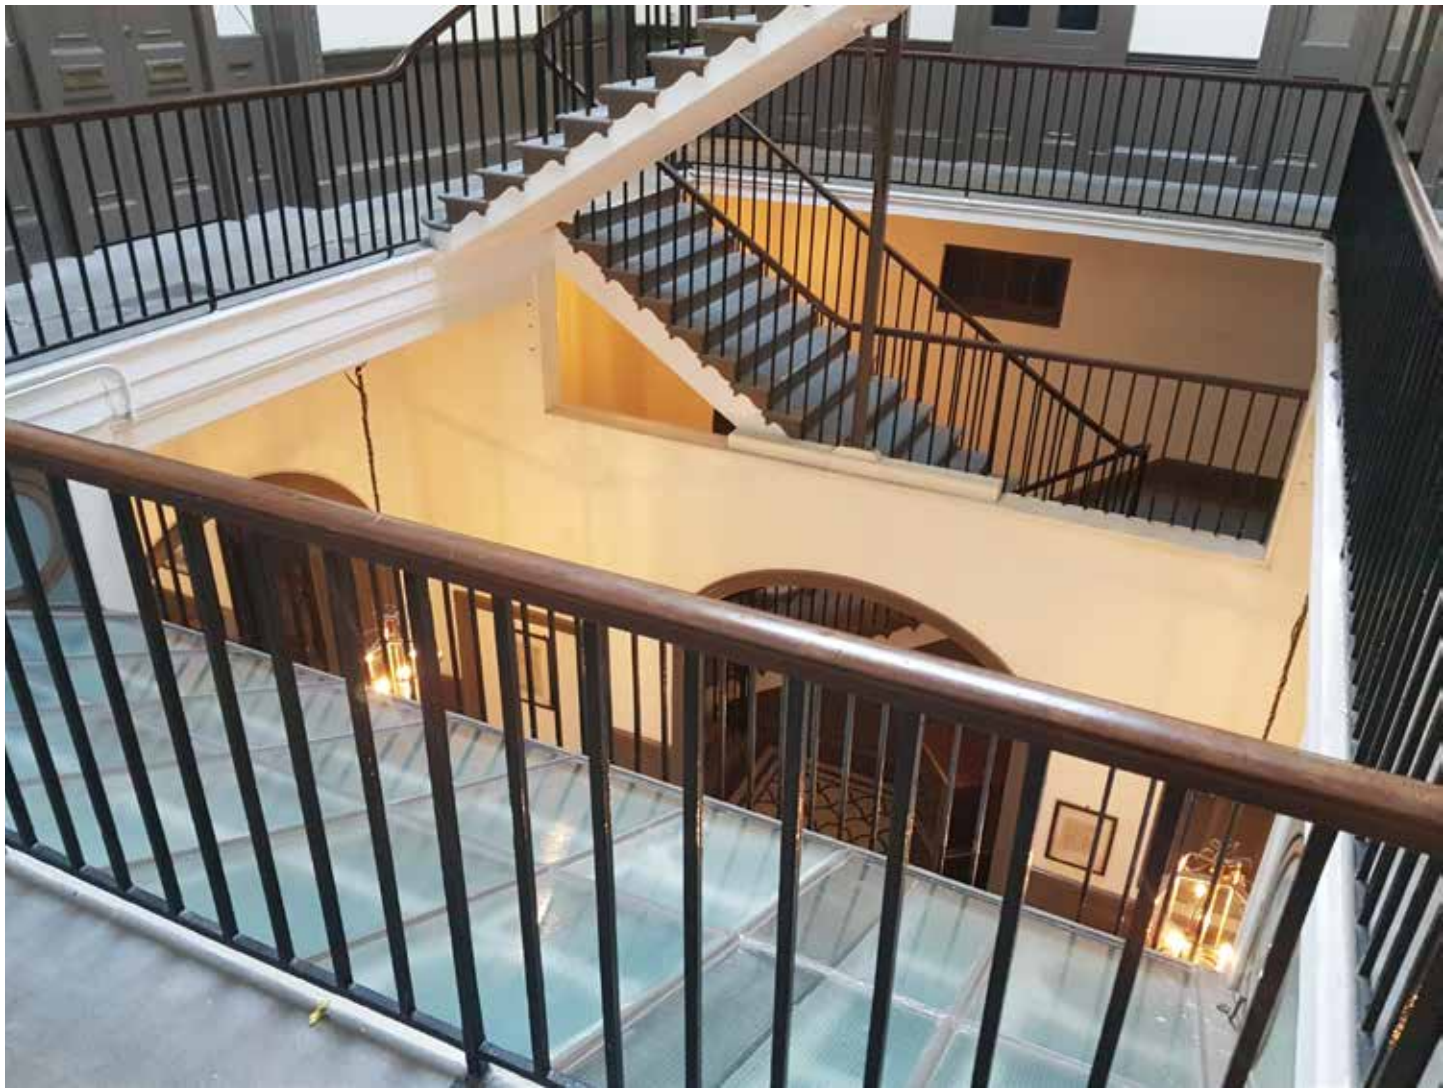

This beautiful georgian apartment building off Piccadilly is one of the hidden treasures of London. Our brief was to provide unobtrusive and efficient ventilation to all bathrooms, showers, WC's and utility rooms.

This was achieved this by using multi-point extract fans and humidistat control, with all equipment hidden in ceiling voids and joinery. Unobtrusive extract slots were specified in order to blend in with the top-quality finishes. ►

► The requirement for minimal sound levels had to be considered at all times, from the design stage right up to installation, without any adverse impact on the correct specification of extract volumes to all areas. It was very satisfying to know that Calibre had made a substantial contribution to the comfort levels of such a superb building.
